Instructions for 2025 Form 800C

Underpayment of Virginia Estimated Insurance Premiums License Tax

Purpose of Form

Form 800C is used by a company to determine whether they paid enough estimated insurance premiums license tax, whether they are subject to the addition to the tax for underpayment of estimated insurance premiums license tax, and, if so, the amount of the addition. Estimated insurance premiums license tax is a company's expected insurance premiums license tax liability minus its credits. An insurance company must make estimated tax payments if it reasonably expects its tax liability to exceed $3,000 for such taxable year.

How to Use This Form

Complete Part I of Form 800C to find out if you have an underpayment for any of the 4 payment periods. If you have an underpayment on Line 8 (Column a, b, c, or d), go to Part II, Exceptions to the Additional Charge. If you do not meet any of the exceptions for a payment period, go to Part III, Computation of the Additional Charge. If you are using Form 800C either to figure the additional charge or to show that you qualify for any exception, enclose Form 800C with your Insurance Premiums License Tax Return, Form 800.

Amended Return

If an amended Form 800 is filed, there is no adjustment allowed to the amount of any addition to tax previously computed and paid.

Part I — How to Compute the Underpayment

Complete Lines 1 through 8 in Part I. The instructions for most of these lines are on the form itself. If Line 8 shows an underpayment, complete Part II to see if any of the exceptions apply. Round to no more than 4 decimal places.

Part II — Exceptions to the Additional Charge

You will not have to pay an additional charge if all of your tax payments (Part II, Line 9) were made on time and are equal to or more than any one of the amounts figured as explained by the exceptions (Lines 10, 11, and 12) for the same payment period (Column a, b, c, or d). Round to no more than 4 decimal places.

The exceptions to the additional charge are:

Line 10—Exception 1, Prior year's tax—Generally, this exception applies if the company paid an amount equal to or more than the tax shown on its Taxable Year 2024 return for the previous year. However, the company must have filed a tax return showing a tax liability for the preceding taxable year and that year must have consisted of 12 months.

Line 11—Exception 2, Tax on prior year's income using current year's rates—Generally, this exception applies if the amount the company paid is equal to or more than the tax figured by using the current year's rates using the facts shown on the prior year's return and the law that applies to the prior year. Your prior year's return does not have to show a tax liability.

Line 12—Exception 3, Tax on annualized income—This exception applies if the estimated tax paid was equal to or more than 90% of the amount the company would owe if estimated tax was figured on annualized taxable income for the months preceding an installment date.

A company may annualize its income as follows:

- (a) For the first 3 months if the installment was required to be paid in the 4th month.
- (b) For the first 3 months or for the first 5 months if the installment was required to be paid in the 6th month.
- (c) For the first 6 months or for the first 8 months if the installment was required to be paid in the 9th month.
- (d) For the first 9 months or for the first 11 months if the installment was required to be paid in the 12th month.

To annualize, multiply taxable income for the period by 12 and divide the result by the number of months in the period (3, 5, 6, 8, 9, or 11, as the case may be). Round to no more than 4 decimal places. Enclose your computation.

Part III — Computation of the Additional Charge

If no exception applies, complete Lines 13 through 17 to determine the amount of the additional charge. The charge is figured for the period of underpayment at the underpayment rate determined under of the Internal Revenue Code § 6621, plus 2%. Round to no more than 4 decimal places.
